Generous gift transforms into new nature center

After nine months of earth moving, landscaping and construction, Huffman Park is now open to the community. Twelve acres of rolling prairie land has been transformed into a pond, play area, walking trail and multiple learning stations. The City held a grand opening ceremony on October 27 to dedicate the park in memory of former property owners Harold and Anna Huffman. During the event, the Harold and Anna Huffman Foundation was honored for donating not only the land, but also for providing the financial resources to make the park a reality. Family and friends attended the event to see Anna and Harold's vision come to fruition.

City officials recently dedicated the new Huffman Park, located adjacent to the City's South Trace Golf Course on John Gray Road.

The couple's vision was to provide an outdoor educational experience for school-aged youth

- that incorporated principles of nature,
- environmental stewardship and ecologic

Reapportionment approved

Fairfield residents concurred with the recent ballot request to reapportion the distribution of the City's income tax proceeds. The measure did not raise taxes, but only slightly adjusted where the existing tax collections are earmarked. Under the previous apportionment, 0.2 percent of the City's 1.5 percent income tax funded the Street Fund, with an equal amount benefiting the Capital Fund. The remaining 1.1 percent was used in the General Fund. Under the new

- reapportionment, the General Fund will receive 1.2 percent, with the Street and Capital Funds each receiving 0.15 percent. Similar adjustments in reapportionment have occurred four other times since 1971. The change was requested to allow the City more flexibility to address needs resulting from loss of state funding to local governments. The move was instrumental in maintaining the City's coveted Aa1 bond rating by Moody's Rating Service.

- education. The play area contains features found in nature such as a balance beam log, tree steppers, ring of boulders and two mounds that include slides and a tunnel. In addition, the play area will have a butterfly garden that contains a butterfly climbing structure and talk tubes. There will be four learning stations throughout the park. They are located at the pond, windmill, orchard and butterfly garden.

- The park is open from dawn to dusk. Visitors enter the site via the South Trace Golf Course entrance off of John Gray Road. In addition, a walking path connects the sidewalk on John Gray Road near Firestone Drive to the walking trail in the park.

- Check the Spring 2013 Fairfield Flyer newsletter for future programming activities within this new venue.

Departments earn accreditation

Residents of most communities can only assume that city operations are efficient, safe and cost-effective. Fairfield residents, however, can rest assured that operations in the Public Works Department and the Public Utilities Department are meeting the highest of standards. Both departments earned accreditation from the highly

- respected American Public Works Association (APWA).
- The Public Works Department was first accredited in 2008. Recognizing the importance of achieving accreditation, the Public Utilities Department sought accreditation this year to ensure its practices

Gilmore Road making progress

Progress continues on construction of the new Gilmore/Winton Road bridge over I-275, along with widening efforts to the roadway. Traffic was recently shifted to the west side of the bridge so that crews can work on the east side of the bridge deck. Crews also continue to build up the subsurface of the interchange ramps.

Traffic will be continuously maintained throughout the project, although there may be temporary delays. Intersections at Kolb Drive, Omniplex Drive and at the ramps to I-275 will continue to be controlled by temporary traffic cameras, which can optically sense flow to better control traffic. Islands have been installed and subsurfaces have been filled so that final paving can be applied in the spring.

The $11 million project is funded primarily by the Ohio Department of Transportation, with additional funding from the Ohio-Kentucky-Indiana Regional Council of Governments, Ohio Public Works Commission, Greater Cincinnati Water Works and the City of Forest Park. Fairfield's local share for the project is $1.5 million, which is about ten percent of the overall cost.

River Road improvements near completion

Work will soon be completed along River Road between Southgate Boulevard and Lake Circle Drive. Crews began shoulder widening and overlay of River Road in early October. Construction included Gray Road between River Road and Lake Michigan Drive. Traffic will be continuously maintained, although some delays can be expected.

SNOW!

It's just a matter of time before snow blankets the landscape. Fairfield's Public Works Department is prepared for winter's worst, but can be much more efficient with your help:

- Park vehicles off the street. This will enable plow operators to clear the roadway more efficiently. Driving a plow is challenging enough. Imagine having to steer around parked cars on a slippery street.
- Do not deposit snow into the street when using a snow blower or shoveling a driveway. Not only does the snow require attention by road crews on their next pass, a homeowner could face liability issues should their actions cause an accident.
- Never allow children to play in snow piles along the roadway. A plow operator may not see them when approaching in less than optimal weather conditions, or if the children have burrowed into the pile.
- If possible, wait until the plow has passed before shoveling the area of a driveway near the street. Plow operators are simply doing their job by clearing the street. The snow must be pushed to the side of the road, which — unfortunately — includes driveway entrances.
- Stack snow on the left side of the driveway entrance (when facing the house) in order to minimize the amount of snow that may be pushed into the driveway entrance by a plow. Plows typically clear snow in the direction of normal traffic, so a large snowpile on the left side of a driveway will be pushed away from the drive entrance.
- Do not try to pass a snowplow or salt truck. Stay 100 feet back from salt trucks.
- Every truck has blind spots, so don't assume the driver can see every area around the truck. Never pull up behind a salt truck.
- The City will not take requests for streets to be plowed. Streets are prioritized based upon traffic volume and terrain. Heaviest traveled streets get first attention so that emergency vehicles can pass. Less traveled streets — like a cul-de-sac or a dead-end street — are plowed last.
- Finally, crews are not superhuman. While they make every effort to clear the streets in an efficient and timely manner, they are limited by the severe weather conditions. Please remain patient during major storm events.

Leaf Collection

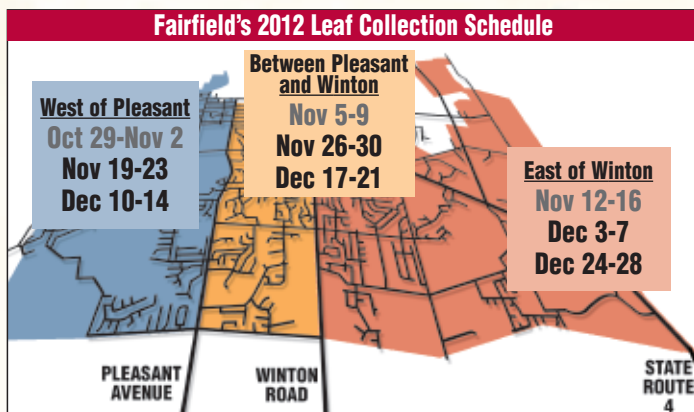

Fall leaf collection has commenced and will continue through December 28. Crews begin collection as early as 7 a.m. and continue until as late as 8 p.m. In order to facilitate pick up, residents should avoid parking in front of leaf piles. Blocked piles cannot be picked up.

In order to facilitate collection, place leaves (and leaves only) in rows or piles between the curb and sidewalk. Do not place them in the street or gutter. Leaves should be piled adjacent to the street in areas without curbs or gutters.

Federal mandates prohibit the placement of leaves in the street or gutter due to the potential for stormwater runoff to contaminate nearby streams. Contaminants also have the potential to leach into the aquifer; source of the area's drinking water. In addition, debris in the street and gutter can block stormwater runoff.

Due to the large volume of leaves, crews may, at times, run a bit behind schedule. In order to ensure collection, place leaves behind the curb by the posted dates. Special collections will not be made by crews after they have completed an area.

Progress of the leaf collection effort — including significant delays — will be posted on the City's website, included in utility bills, or placed on Fairfield cable television channel 18.

Residents who miss the annual collection program or have a small amount of leaves may want to bag their leaves for curbside pick-up as part of their regularly scheduled trash collection.

BUSINESS BOOSTER

Western States to build new plant in City

A well known manufacturing company has begun construction on a new headquarters facility that will bring a substantial new investment and new jobs to Fairfield.

The Western States Machine Company was founded in 1917 to develop and manufacture improvements for centrifugals in the sugar industry. In 1950, Western States expanded its centrifugal line to include centrifuges for non-sugar industries including separation of fine chemicals, agricultural chemicals and pharmaceuticals. Since its inception, Western States has grown to become a world-wide supplier of centrifugals for both the sugar and non-sugar industries, with more than 6,000 centrifugals installed worldwide.

OCS IntelliTrak relocates to larger facility on Seward Road

After outgrowing a smaller facility in Forest Park, OCS IntelliTrak is moving to larger building at 8660 Seward Road in Fairfield.

OCS IntelliTrak is a locally-owned company that designs, manufactures, and installs overhead conveyor systems for material handling. The company's patented overhead conveyor systems are used in a variety of industries, primarily in manufacturing warehouses and distribution centers.

Its new Seward Road location offers more square footage plus room for future expansion. The move will relocate 15 employees, with additional jobs to be added as the company expands.

"We are very excited about moving our business into

Fairfield," said President Tom Robertson. "I was born and raised in Fairfield, and graduated in 1985 from Fairfield High School. All three of my children currently attend Fairfield Schools, and I am excited to be able to tell everyone that I own and operate a business in Fairfield."

"In the past, we have had to contract out work, and use other businesses for sales presentations and testing," he said. "The larger facility will allow us to host our own sales seminars and bring more work in-house."

Western States identified a 10.6 acre site on Commerce Center Drive that will accommodate a new 76,000 square foot office and manufacturing headquarters facility, with remaining acreage available for future expansion.

Total new investment is estimated at more than $6.5 million, which includes $4.6 million in new building construction. Western States will relocate 67 jobs from its current facility and plans to create many new jobs as the business continues to grow.

"Everyone here at Western States is excited about our new facility in Fairfield, and we definitely look forward to working with the City," said company President & CEO David Douglas Buckner.

Duke Energy offers rebate program to area businesses

Cherry blossom trees mark goodwill 100th anniversary

In 1912, Japan gave the United States a gift of 3,000 cherry blossom trees as a symbolic gesture to recognize the growing relationship between the two countries. This year marks the 100-year anniversary of that generous gift.

In the spirit of that gesture, Pacific Manufacturing Ohio (a Japanese-owned manufacturing company

Drought delays Koch expansion

In the August Business Booster, a story appeared about an expansion at Koch Foods. The project has temporarily been put on hold.

Koch Foods raises its own chickens on several farms. The main feed for the chickens is corn. When the project was being planned, the price of corn was in the $6 per bushel range. The drought in the Midwest caused prices to jump to nearly $8 per bushel. Due to the increase and future price uncertainty, Koch Foods decided to delay the project, but hopes to proceed with it in 2013 when prices stabilize.

Truck repair firm opens larger plant

Sandra Ambrose-Clark is not your typical business owner. First, she is a female entrepreneur in the typically male-dominated trucking industry. Second, she has started three new business ventures in the last five years, despite challenging economic times.

Ambrose-Clark, a Fairfield resident, has been in the trucking industry for 26 years. As the long-time owner of ESJ Carrier, she grew tired of paying for substandard servicing and repair work on her fleet. So in 2007, she started Without A Doubt Truck & Trailer Repair to provide guaranteed quality service. It specializes in medium-duty and heavy-duty diesel powered trucks and trailers.

"Our company motto is 'YES WE CAN'", said Ambrose-Clark.

She has since started a brokerage business and a warehousing business to compliment her other companies. For now, though, growing the Without A Doubt repair business is her main focus.

The repair business has been growing rapidly, particularly since the move earlier this year from a 2-bay garage on North Gilmore Road to an 8-bay garage at 3240 Production Drive. Without A Doubt has grown to employ 16 full-time mechanics, with more employees expected as growth continues. The company differentiates itself by offering driver relaxation rooms with wireless internet and cable service, a courtesy van, company store, and even a fully stocked ice cream cooler. The new location has also allowed Without A Doubt to gain new customers from surrounding companies.

"We are very community-oriented and focused on helping our neighbors," said Ambrose-Clark. To illustrate her community focus, she has even offered free bi-monthly grill-out lunches to help build relationships. "The lunches have turned out to be great community builders. They've been fun."

For more information about Without A Doubt Truck & Trailer Repair, visit www.withoutadoubtruckrepair.com or call Sandra Ambrose-Clark at 330-5068.

See How They Run

A FARCE BY PHILIP KING

Galloping in and out of the four doors of an English vicarage are an American actor and actress, a cockney maid who has seen too many American movies, an old maid who "touches alcohol for the first time in her life," four men in clergyman suits (one is an escaped prisoner), and a sedate Bishop aghast at all these goings on. Directed by James C. Wine & Song

Jamie-Sue Seal & John Latini

COUNTRY ROOTS / JAZZ

With John's righteous, blues-based guitar style and Jamie-Sue's roots rock jam, this duo seems as natural as two healthy vines intertwining. Jamie-Sue is an established songwriter, singer with four self-produced solo CDs. John was Detroit Blues Champion twice, a semi-finalist (with Seal) in the Windsor Blues Challenge, and winner of numerous awards. The five-o'clock shadow of Latini's voice is a perfect foil for Seal's sunny vocal clarity, whether in harmony or playing off each other, it's a back-and-forth synergy that can't be manufactured, only cultivated.

REM / Smithereens / Red Clay Ramblers producer Don Dixon "discovered" Hey Mavis at the House of Blues in Cleveland and four months later, produced their debut CD, Red Wine. Hey Mavis has opened for Yonder Mountain String Band, The Fabulous String Dusters, and Missy Raines and the New Hip.

It provides a low-impact work-out with an emphasis on strengthening core muscles. It also helps improve memory by learning short choreographies. This class is the ideal way for women of any age, shape, or size to improve her physical and mental well-being, and it's great fun! Step out of your fitness rut and try something new and exciting. Take your belly dance to the next level by learning more extensive choreographies and learning how to enhance your dance with skirts and veils (additional cost potential). While attendance in the Beginner Belly dance class is not required some dance experience is recommended, as the pace of the class will be faster and the choreographies more complex than in the beginner class. Holiday Tree Recycling

DECEMBER 26 - JANUARY 7

Here's a way to make your natural holiday tree useful after the holidays. Recycle your tree in the Fairfield Parks and Recreation Department's Holiday Tree Recycling program. Through this program, trees are shredded to produce mulch used in the city's parks and recreation system. Residents, who desire, may also keep the mulch for use around their house.

Trees may be dropped off at Waterworks Park on Groh Lane from December 26 through January 7. A Christmas tree disposal corral will be set up in the Waterworks Park south parking area (the parking lot closest to River Road). Before leaving a tree, please be sure to remove all ornaments and tinsel. The recycling program offers residents an environmentally responsible alternative for tree disposal.

Departments earn accreditation...

met the highest of standards set forth in the process. The APWA Accreditation Program recognizes agencies that go beyond the requirements of the management practices established nationally in the public works industry.

Fairfield’s accreditations are evidence that departments meet, or exceed, standards of performance in areas such as road and bridge repair and maintenance, engineering and construction services, building and grounds maintenance, utility coordination and vehicle maintenance.

“Fairfield’s Department of Public Works Re-Accreditation shows that they are maintaining documentation, practices, and meeting any

- new practices adopted by the APWA.
- Meeting these high standards have enhanced the effectiveness and competencies of our Public Works Department,” said Public Works Director David Butsch.

- Fairfield’s Public Works services include bid advertisements for projects, brush and leaf collection, snow and ice removal, construction services, engineering, street and road projects, storm water, flooding, and maps/Geographic Information Systems (GIS).

- Fairfield’s Department of Public Utilities provides water and sanitary sewer services for more than 44,000 domestic customers, as well as Mercy Hospital and 1,800 commercial and industrial customers.

- “Accreditation of the Public Utilities’

- Department confirms sound organizational principals and the professional prowess of the staff,” said Dave Crouch, Public Utilities Director. “Each staff member demonstrates core values of care, competence and compassion through their service to our community.”

- Fairfield’s Public Utility services includes drinking water production/distribution, source water protection, meter reading/billing, wastewater collection and treatment, maintenance of more than 350 miles of water/sewer main lines and all aspects of budget and capital planning to sustain our operations and service to the community.

- To receive accreditation, a team of professional experts from California, Kentucky, and Missouri completed a thorough evaluation of both operations in early October.

CodeRED: Facts you need to know...

The City of Fairfield uses the CodeRED Emergency Alert System as a tool to notify residents and businesses of urgent situations. The system enables the City to send high-speed alerts via telephone. These calls may be sent to all or to portions of the City dependent on the geographic impact of an event. For example, a missing person alert might be broadcast community wide, while a water boil alert would generally be sent to a targeted affected area.

Information is delivered using recorded messages that detail the situation and may provide further instructions to recipients.

Fairfield's CodeRED Emergency Telephone Calling System is geographically based, meaning that street addresses are used to select which telephone numbers receive calls in a given situation. The system works with both landline and mobile telephones, but a street address is required in either case. People who retain their telephone numbers when they move into the City (or to a new address within the City) must enter their new address into the database (see Section 3).

1 For what types of emergencies will CodeRED be used and how often will it be used? CodeRED focuses on keeping the general public informed of issues or events that affect public safety and personal well-being. Examples of CodeRED applications include missing person alerts, water boil advisories, environmental hazards, snow removal protocol, and optional severe weather advisories.

2 Why should I enroll in CodeRED? The Fairfield geographic database, and its corresponding list of landline telephone numbers, is used by the Emergency Communications Network (the company that operates CodeRED). Residents and business owners should not assume that a telephone number is automatically included, especially if there is no landline, the location has an unlisted telephone number, or if a mobile telephone is used exclusively.

2 Who should register for CodeRED?

- Households and/or businesses that do not maintain a landline telephone.
- Individuals who use a mobile telephone as their primary telephone or who wish to be contacted when they are away from their landline telephone.

- Individuals with unlisted telephone numbers.
- Businesses or residents who have changed their telephone number or address (generally within the past twelve months).
- All businesses (enter the preferred telephone number for delivery of emergency messages, which may be a number other than their primary business line)

3 How do I sign up for CodeRED?

Residents who have a landline telephone number may already be included in the CodeRED Emergency Alert System database. Residents can check their status by clicking on the CodeRED icon on the homepage of the City's website at www.fairfield-city.org. This will prompt the visitor to create a CodeRED account. From there, a telephone number can be entered, changed, or added. CodeRED subscribers can access and control their accounts from anywhere in the world through a secure Internet connection.

4 Is there a cost for enrolling in CodeRED?

There is no cost to enroll in the CodeRED Emergency Alert System. It is one of the many benefits of living or doing business in the City of Fairfield.

5 Does enrollment in the CodeRED Emergency Alert System automatically register me for the Severe Weather Warning System?

The Severe Weather Warning System is an optional service offered through CodeRED, but numbers are not automatically registered for this service, even if a number is registered for standard CodeRED services. Residents and businesses are strongly urged to register for the weather warning system via the CodeRED registration link and/or to verify if they are currently registered for all desired services. Like CodeRED, there is no charge for the weather warning service.

6 What if I don't want all of the weather notifications provided by the Severe Weather Warning System?

The system provides notifications of severe thunderstorm and tornado warnings (the system does not provide notification of tornado watches). Residents and businesses can choose to be notified of all severe weather events or just specific events. For example, a resident can receive only a notice of tornado warnings. The CodeRED registration site will take visitors through a step-by-step process so they can tailor their choices. Preferences can be changed or and telephone numbers can be removed from the Severe Weather Warning System by accessing the online account.

7 Can I register more than one telephone number?

Yes, both a landline telephone number and/or a mobile telephone number can be registered by accessing the registration site. In either case, a Fairfield address will need to be associated with the telephone number entered. Additional family members or business associates who use a mobile telephone can register their mobile telephones separately, so long as each one uses the same address associated with the family or business.

8 What if I want to OPT OUT of all CodeRED notifications?

Those registered who want to OPT OUT of the CodeRED system can download the a waiver form (also available on the City's website) and submit it (either by mail or in person) to the City of Fairfield, 5350 Pleasant Avenue, Fairfield, OH 45014. The request should include all applicable the telephone number(s) to be removed from the Emergency Alert database.

9 What other communities use CodeRED?

Local communities using CodeRED include Springdale, Forest Park, Springfield Township, Monroe, Middletown, and Sharonville, to name a few.

10 Can TTY/TDD (Telecommunications Device for the Deaf) equipment receive CodeRED notifications?

Yes. When registering a telephone number, there is an option to enter TTY/TDD information.

11 What if I'm not home to receive the alert message?

The CodeRED dialing system will leave emergency alert messages on a voicemail or answering machine. If there is no voicemail, an answering machine, or if a voicemail is full, CodeRED will dial a telephone number a total of three times to convey the urgent information.

Almost half the thefts in the City can easily be prevented

Of ALL thefts in the City of Fairfield, a whopping 45 percent of them are from vehicles! By far, thefts from vehicles represent the largest reported offense in the City, but most are preventable.

Most thefts from vehicles are crimes of opportunity. Often, the thief is "window shopping" looking for something to take. When they see something worth taking, they check to see if the vehicle is unlocked. If so, thieves will then get in the car and look to see what else they can find.

It all happens in a matter of a few seconds. Those few seconds can be costly if the thief finds a wallet, a purse or other identification in the vehicle. Things can be replaced, but once an identity is stolen, it can take a lot longer to get back... if ever.

Prevention is simple

Remove all items of any value from visibility from the outside. This includes cell phone

- chargers and GPS mounts on the windshield,
- which are clear indications that a cellular telephone or GPS device is in the vehicle. By removing all items from sight, a thief is less likely to break into the vehicle.

Criminals are lazy by nature. Always lock the vehicle and make sure the windows are up. The harder it is to get into the vehicle the less likely a thief will even try to enter.

Which car is most at risk? The one on the right since valuables make for a quick, easy score, especially if the car is unlocked.

- If a garage is available, park the vehicle inside.
- If a garage is not available, park in a well lit area.
- If a vehicle is broken into, contact the police department and file a report. If a wallet is stolen, notify the appropriate agencies such as a bank, credit card company and the Bureau of Motor Vehicles. They can look for suspicious activity which can help with the police investigation. If electronic items are taken, be sure to provide serial numbers so that the items can be returned, if recovered.

Firefighters participate in study

Volunteers from the Fairfield Fire Department participated in a recent study conducted by the University of Cincinnati and sponsored by the National Institute of Occupational Safety & Health. The study measured the effect of heat stress on firefighters wearing full turnout gear and self-contained breathing apparatus while conducting tasks such as deploying/advancing hose lines, fire suppression, search & rescue and rapid intervention.

Participants were monitored during the exercise using various sensors and a radio emitting pill taken by firefighters. The pill, the size of an adult vitamin, provided researchers with a constant measure of body temperature.

The information gathered during the study will be helpful to future generations of firefighters and may help determine the design and type of protective equipment they wear.

New gear speeds water repairs

New equipment has been placed into service that can help water crews repair water main breaks more efficiently. The gear, contained on a trailer, allows workers to quickly close a valve before repairs. With most valves about five feet underground, the access conduit often is filled with debris that makes the valve difficult — if not impossible — to operate. The new equipment uses a powerful vacuum to clear the channel, then a special tool attaches to the shut-off to automatically operate the valve using the precise torque needed.

In the past, valves were inadvertently broken when manually trying to shut them down, which resulting in the necessity to shut off water to a wider area. Using the new equipment, crews have planned to operate 20 percent of the City's 2,500 valves each year to ensure their reliability when needing to be shut off for a nearby repair.

Get $30 to recycle an old refrigerator

Under a program sponsored by Duke Energy, Duke customers can receive a $30 payment when recycling an old refrigerator or freezer. In addition, the program will have the appliance picked-up for free.

To qualify, the unit must be between 10 and 30 cubic feet in size and easily accessible to those making the pick-up.

To participate in the appliance recycling effort, call 855-398-6200 between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. on weekdays or 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Saturdays. Residents can also arrange for a pick-up by visiting www.duke-energy.com/ohio/savings/appliance-recycling-faqs.asp. The appliance will be taken to a local facility where 95 percent of it will be recycled.
